LI: To research how Jewish people show that they care for others.

TT - On an outline of a lemon and a leaf, write on the lemon some people that Jewish people might want to help at Sukkot and how they might help. On the leaf record what Jewish people think God teaches about caring for others.

|

Success Criteria:

1. Write on the lemon some people that Jewish people might want to help at Sukkot & how they help.
2. Write on the leaf what Jewish people think God teaches about caring for others.

What is Tzedekah?

Who might the Jewish community notice that needs help?

How might they help?

What do Jewish people think god teaches about caring for others?

LS: Tzedekah is

Jewish people believe...

At Sukkot...

Tzedekah is the Jewish idea of charitable giving to those who need help. For Jewish people this is part of making the world a better place, fairer and more just. For Jewish people this is following the teaching of God;

For there will never cease to be needy ones from the midst of the land, which is why I command you: open your hand to your fellow, to your poor and your needy in your land.

Deuteronomy 15:11

Think about the 'land' you live in, your town/ city and the wider country and world. Who might the Jewish community notice that needs help? What help might they be able to offer?

During this festival Jewish people create a booth and spend time living outside to remember the Israelites escape from Egypt and their dependence on God as they made their way through the desert.

Many people believe the festival of Sukkot is a time to remember those who are poor by giving meals and shelter and donating money (tzedekah). The Etrog (Citron fruit) and the Lulav (three types of bound leaves – traditionally myrtle, willow and palm) are shaken together in all directions to symbolise sweetness and goodness.

PSHE

LI: To recognise and appreciate people that help me and how it feels to trust someone.

What does it mean to trust someone?

How do we make trust in a relationship/friendship grow?

E.g. not telling a lie to each other/ helping each other.

Just like a balloon grows with each puff of air that goes into it, so does trust.

What is trust?

What helps us to trust people?

What causes us to lose trust?

Who are the people around us we can trust?

Who are the people you would not trust?

How do you know if you can trust people?

LS:

I think....

I feel....

Tell me or show me.

Look at the cards. Who would you trust? Who wouldn't you trust? Give reasons for your answers. Some people we trust because they look after us and others might be strangers.

Task

Let me learn.

SC:

1. In groups, draw a matchstick person to represent your self in the middle of an A3 paper.
2. Make a big circle around yourself.
3. Now decide which people you trust and place them in the circle.
4. Have reasons for your choices and share them with each other.

Does everyone have the same ideas about who to trust?

How do I feel about trusting and being trusted?

LS:

I can recognise that...

I appreciate that... I trust...because...

I don't trust...because...
